Most if Not All of the Cabinet to Come-Additional Invitations. WASHINGTON, D. C., October 25 .-Special.)-All the gentlemen of the Richmond delegation to invite the President and Cabinet to your city on Tuesday next, who remained over yesterday, left for home to-day. Secretaries Hay, Root, for home to-day. Secretaries Hay, Root, and Hitchcock, and Postmaster-General Smith, have not yet made up their minds about accompanying the President to Richmond. It is confidently expected, however, that most of them will go, and that probably the full Cabinet will be present. The arrangements for the Presidential train to Richmond have not been appropried.

THE PRESS.

An Associated Press reporter and a New York Sun reporter will accompany the President, as usual, when he goes on such trips. It is not known what arrangements will be made in Richmond for press correspondents who are desifor press correspondents who are destrous of attending the launching and great civic carnival, or whether they will be furnished transportation. Soveral of them intend to go, but it is doubtful if they will do so at their own expense Numerous inquirles are being made to-

General Montague, Mr. Richardson, and Others Make Speeches.

The Medical Society of Virginia, which convened in its thirtieth annual session at the Jefferson last Tuesday, concluded its business yesterday afternoon, and adjourned to meet in Charlettesville next year, the date to be decided upon here-

Before dispersing, however, the visiting bysicians were entertained at a musicale and a banquet tendered them by the local members of the society. The former was attended by a throng of ladies and genlemen, who filled the roof garden to its atmost capacity, and the latter was atended by a genial company of medical men, who made merry and enjoyed them elves to the fullest,

The business sessions of the society yesterday were largely attended, and much interest attached to the proceedings. Seva member was expelled for alleged malpractice, and new officers, who are to govern the society for the next twelve

Dr. Southgate Lee, of Nor-folk, entered a vigorous protest against what he termed "the reckless surgery in appendicitis cases, which is seen on every hand." He said when necessary operations should be performed, but quly when absolutely necessary. He believed in a large number of cases recurrence could be prevented. The three most important things to be looked after by patients to prevent a return of the trouble were to keep the system open, to avoid violent exercise, and to avoid the causes of indigestion. To prevent paralysis of the muscles of the bowels he had successfully used Faradia electricity. The use of the ice bag in appendicitis was recom-

EXPEL A FELLOW. At this juncture in the proceedings the Judiciary Committee submitted a report setting forth that charges of a most serious nature against Dr. J. E. Booth, of Petersburg, had been found true, and re-commended that he be expelled from the society. The ballot was circulated and Dr. Booth expelled. A three-fourths vote was required, and of 116 votes cast 100 were for expulsion.

Dr. Booth was expelled by the Petersburg Academy of Medicine, and the case reported to the grand jury in the Hustings Court, but he was never indicted. Dr. J. M. Whitfield, of Richmond, who is an analytical chemist, spoke on food adulterations. He read circulars sent out by food adulterators, especially of coffee. Some of it is used in Richmond, he said, and asserted that there are a great many boarding-houses in Richmond where chicory and coffee are mixed under pre-tence of improving the flavor of the cof-

Sugar is adulterated with sand and rice. A great deal of the sugar on the market is made out cotton rags and chips.

Aniline is often used in candy. "Vanilla" extract, the speaker continu ed, is made in factories where there has never been a vanilla bean. Lard is adulterated by whitewash. The unanimously elected to deliver the address to the public and the profession at the next annual meeting.

The committee appointed by the Chair to select the general subject for next year—Drs. W. T. Oppenhimer, R. F. Williams, and J. B. Jones—reported their choice of a subject to be "Dyspepma—Its Different Forms and Treatment." The subject, however, met with the decided disapproval of the convention, and the committee was instructed to retire and committee was instructed to retire and make choice of some other subject. The subject next reported was "Gastric Dyspepsla-Its Different Forms and Treatment." The slight veriation in the two subjects did not satisfy the society, and the matter was again recommitted to the

MEET IN CHARLOTTESVILLE, There were two candidates for the conor of entertaining next year's meeting of the society-Charlottesville and the Yellow Sulphur Springs. The vote was overwhelmingly in favor of the Albe-marie city, and was made unanimous when it was seen that the Springs were hopslessly in a minority. In presenting the claims of Charlottesvilla, Dr. Bar-ringer, of the University of Virginia, tendered the use and facilities of the University buildings during the sessions of the society.

The time of next year's meeting was referred to the Executive Committee and Committee on Arrangements. The data will be announced later.

The annual report of the treasurer was read, showing a balance to the credit of the society, and was referred to an auditing committee.

to the occasion. The society, on motion of Dr. Edwards, by a rising vote, elected Dr. Michaux an honorary member. Dr. Michaux thanked the body for the honor conferred, and before resuming his seat mentioned the receipt of a letburg, in which the writer explained his absence from this session of the society on the ground of illness. Dr. Michaux's motion that the society assure Dr. Claiborne of its sympathy, was adopted unanimously. Resuming the regular business, the subject of fever, as touched on by the two preceding papers, was discussed by Drs. W. L. Robinson, L. B. Edwards and others. Dr. Robert F. Williams, of this city. read a paper on "Gastric Lavage," concluding the business of the convention-session of 1899-which will go on record

The Banquet Last Night.

The session of the society was brought to a close by the banquet served in the magnificent dining hall of the Jefferson and a most enjoyable feast it proved to be. An excellent menu was served, and thereafter a number of eloquent speeches to the first toast, "Virginia," and referred primarily to the grandeur of the State. Tracing its history from the landing of the ships at Jamestown, and referring parenthetically to the fact that the first settlement of English civilization was at Jamestown, Mr. Montague paid a high tribute to John Smith and Pocuhontas,

The train was fired upon and obliged to retire, and General White moved out to attack the Boers, believed to be Free Staters, who should have joined the Transvaalers at Elandslaagte. General White commanded personally the Fifth Lancers were placed on either flank. They first came in touch with the Boers below Modderspruit, where 1500 burghers occupied a strong ridge, whence they opened fire at 1500 yards, hitting several of the British. "At about 9 o'clock, however, a Boer gun stationed on the crest of Matawanaskop opened fire with great accuracy on the British force, which in the meanwhile had come up, but the shells failed to explode, and the British artillery stienced the opposition. The whole British force then advanced, and the action became general. A large body of Boers occupied strong positions at Matawanaskop and the precipitous ridges surrounding it. The British guns shelled the positions, and the infantry advanced under cover of the fire. The Gloucesters and Devonshires crossed a fearful fire-zone beneath Tuitanyoni hill, whence the Boers poured a withering fire with such effect that thirty of the attackers dropped within a distance of 200 yards. Seeing the peril of the Devonshires and Gloucesters, General White dispatched the Carbineers and Liverpools to take the enemy in the rear.

BOERS DISLODGED.

"A flerce rifle and artillery duel was maintained for some time. The British Maxims rattled, but the Boers, under cover of the rocks, remained cool, and replied with incessant rifle fire. The British artillery swept the face of the hill, and at length the shells became so destructive that the Boers retreated to another ridge, whence they were dislodged by the volunteers in the face of a galling fire. The Boers soon reformed and took up a position on another ridge, but the volunteers dashed across the intervening plateau, again rushed the Boer position, and drove them back to the main force, occupying Matawanaskop. The British then shelled the latter until clusters of Boers were seen leaving and retreating westward, when the enghgement closed.

"After the victory Friday the British imagined they were free from further molestation for some days, but they soon found that the earlier reports of a sweeping success were exaggerated. The reported capture of all the Boer guns was incorrect. The Burghers succeeded in removing some of them before the British carried the hill, leaving only the riftemen behind to cover their retreat.

"On Saturday news was received of the approach of General Joubert's main column, threatening Dundee. General Yule quickly recognized the impossibility of defending both Dundee and Glencoe against such superiority of numbers; sent word to Ladysmith of his dangerous situation, and ordered the evacuation of Dundee, Most of the inhabitants went south-(CONCLUDED ON THIRD PAGE.)

Amount Left to Each of the Other

NEW YORK, October 26.-Senator Depew to-night gave out a scatement of the terms of the will of the late Cornelius is estimated at $70,000,000. Alfred Gwynne thus becomes the head of the family. The will gives Cornelius Vanderblie about $1 -500,000. It gives to each of his remaining brothers and sisters about $1,000,900, Al-

Out of the spirit of affection, and for the purpose of satisfying all of the m bers of the family, Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt gives his brother Cornelius onough of his inheritance to make his fortune equal to that of the other members, namely, $7,500,000. Senator Depew says that Cornelius Vanderbiit has accepted this arrangement in the spirit in which it was offered. The will makes no mention of the mar riage of Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., to Miss Wilson, or to any quarrel between father and son because of the union, but apparently the father's displeasure was visited upon the eldest son, he receiving, all told, under the terms of the will, but $1,500,000, and $1,000,000 of this is held, in Fourteen People Barned to Death.

MOBILE. ALA.. October 26.—News reached here this evening that fourteen people had been burned to death at a place known as Faires, in Baldwin country, thrity miles from Mobile.

A colony is established at Faires. Some time during Monday night the dwellings of Harry Goodlow and Samuel Smithson were turned and all the occupants cremated. The Goodlow family consisted of father, mother, and six children. There were six persons in the Smithson house—the husband, wife, three children, and a sister of Mr. Smithson's.

Fine trees surrounding the houses caught fire from the flames and prevented the neighbors from rendering assistance. The two families came from lowa.

Armor for Warships.

WASHINGTON, October 25.—The Navy Department has made public the report of Rear-Admiral Charles O'Nell, chief of ordnance. It shows a satisfactory condition of affairs in the ordnance branch of the zervice in all departments save that of armor. He goes at some length into the history of the present difficulty in obtaining armor suitable for the new battleships and cruisers, and says that it is quite evident that the building of armored ships of yer must soon be discontinued by this government unless the vexed question of the supply of and cost of armor can be disposed of.
